What to do in Innsbruck

Innsbrucker Nordkettenbahnen - Cable Railways

In no other place in the world is the dividing line between an urban area and rugged mountain terrain so thin. The new Nordkettenbahnen will now transport visitors directly from the city center of Innsbruck to high mountain terrain in just twenty minutes.

Innsbruck Alpine Zoo

Europe's highest-lying Zoo (750 m) is located on the foot of the Nordkette, right above the capital city of Tyrol with an unique view over the surrounding mountains. Experience the animal world in the alps here with more than 2000 animals and 150 species. What's special about this "alpine zoo" is the way it presents alpine life forms from the past and present.

Swarovski Kristallwelten

A water-spouting Giant that magically lures visitors into its interior, where Chambers of Wonder ignite beacons of imagination, has managed to become a globally-recognised work of art, while attracting more than 10 million visitors to date.

Ambras Castle

Located above Innsbruck in Tirol, can be seen far and wide. Its cultural and historical significance is inseparably linked with the personality of Archduke Ferdinand II (1529–1595), a true “Renaissance prince” who was an enthusiastic patron of the arts and sciences and who founded the Ambras collections, a prototype of the present-day museum. The Lower Castle attempts to reconstruct the Archduke's museum: his Chamber of Art and Curiosities, the Chambers of Armour and the Antiquarium. The Upper Castle contains the exceptional Portrait Gallery of the Habsburgs with its over 200 paintings, including ones by artists such as Lukas Cranach, Titian, Van Dyck and Velázquez. On the ground floor of the Upper Castle is the Collection of Late Medieval Sculptures.

Bergisel Skijump

Towering at the south entrance of Innsbruck stands the Bergisel Skijump. A sport events location as well as a new visitors attraction. The funicular and the tower elevator comfortably take you up to the Bergisel Panorama Restaurant from where you will enjoy the view of the city and its mountains above.

Hofburg

The Hofburg Innsbruck is together with Hofburg Vienna and Schönbrunn Castle amongst the three culturally most important buildings of Austria. The museum encompasses 27 rooms of the former imperial residential and representational area.
